

3.3.4 Making marketing decisions: using the marketing mix

Content	Additional information
The elements of the marketing mix (7Ps)
The influences on and effects of changes in the elements of the marketing mix	The marketing mix should be considered for goods and services, both industrial and consumer.
Product decisions	Product decisions should include: • the value of product portfolio analysis and the Boston Matrix • the value of the product life cycle model including extension strategies • influences on and the value of new product development.
Pricing decisions	Pricing decisions should include penetration and price skimming.
Decisions about the promotional mix	Promotional decisions should include: • the value of branding • social media • viral marketing.
Distribution (place) decisions	Distribution decisions should include multi-channel distribution.
Decisions relating to other elements of the marketing mix: people, process and physical environment

Content	Additional information
The importance of and influences on an integrated marketing mix	Influences on an integrated marketing mix include: • the position in the product life cycle • the Boston Matrix • the type of product • marketing objectives • the target market • competition • positioning.
Understanding the value of digital marketing and e-commerce	