

3.1.1 Textual variations and representations

Students should study a range of texts:

- about various subjects
- from various writers and speakers
- for various audiences
- for various purposes

- in a variety of genres
- using a variety of modes (written, spoken, electronic).

When analysing texts, students should explore how language is:

- shaped according to audience, purpose, genre and mode
- shaped according to context
- used to construct meanings and representations
- used to enact relationships between writers, speakers and audiences or between participants within a text.

This exploration will include:

- methods of language analysis
- how identity is constructed
- how audiences are addressed and positioned
- the functions of the texts
- the structure and organisation of the texts
- how representations are produced.
