

3.4 Unit 4 PHYA4 Fields and Further Mechanics

This is the first A2 unit, building on the key ideas and knowledge covered in AS Physics. The first section advances the study of momentum and introduces circular and oscillatory motion and covers gravitation. Electric and magnetic fields are covered, together with basic electromagnetic induction. Electric fields leads into capacitors and how quickly they charge and discharge through a resistor. Magnetic fields leads into the generation and transmission of alternating current.