

3.4.4 D3a

Basic foundation content	Additional foundation content	Higher content only
Calculate different measures of spread: • range • quartiles.	In addition those in the basic foundation content, calculate the following measures of spread: • interquartile range • percentiles.	In addition those in the foundation content, calculate the following measures of spread: • interpercentile range • interdecile range • standard deviation.

Notes: when calculating quartiles data sets will have n values where n is one less than a multiple of 4.