
4.4 What students need to learn

- How to study, with increasing independence, a wider range of texts of cultural and literary significance
- How to carry out literary research
- How texts can be re-interpreted
- How critical responses are formed and received
- About the influences of culture and contexts on readers and writers
- How to present their findings appropriately, using referencing and sources
- How to develop creative responses to texts