

- Section B – one collection of 15 poems from the Pearson Poetry Anthology.

The learning outcomes below are drawn from the GCSE Subject Level Conditions and Requirements for English Literature, published April 2014.

Learning outcomes		Students will:
Literal and inferential comprehension	2.1	understand a word, phrase, sentence or whole text in context; explore aspects of plot, characterisation, events and settings; distinguish between what is stated explicitly and what is implied; explain motivation, sequence of events, and the relationship between actions or events
Critical reading	2.2	identify the theme and distinguish between themes; support a point of view by referring to evidence in the text; recognise the possibility of and evaluate different responses to a text, use understanding of writer's social, historical and cultural contexts to inform evaluation; make an informed personal response that derives from analysis and evaluation of the text
Evaluation of a writer's choice of vocabulary, grammatical and structural features	2.3	analyse and evaluate how language (including figurative language), structure, form and presentation contribute to quality and impact; use linguistic and literary terminology for such evaluation (such as, but not restricted to, phrase, metaphor, meter, irony and persona, synecdoche, pathetic fallacy)
Comparing texts	2.4	compare and contrast texts studied, refer where relevant to theme, characterisation, context (where known), style and literary quality; compare two texts critically with respect to the above
Writing – producing clear and coherent text	2.5	write effectively about literature for a range of purposes such as: to describe, explain, summarise, argue, analyse and evaluate; discuss and maintain a point of view; select and emphasise key points; use relevant quotation and detailed textual references.

Content

Teaching will cover two set texts: one 19th-century novel and one collection of poems from the Pearson Poetry Anthology. The full list of set texts for this component is as follows.

19th-century novel

A choice of one text from the following:

Jane Eyre – Charlotte Brontë

Great Expectations – Charles Dickens

Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde – R L Stevenson

A Christmas Carol – Charles Dickens

Pride and Prejudice – Jane Austen

Silas Marner – George Eliot

Frankenstein – Mary Shelley

Pearson Poetry Anthology*

A choice of one collection from the following:

Relationships

Conflict

Time and Place

Belonging

Each collection contains 15 poems and includes Romantic, Literary Heritage and Contemporary poetry. All 15 poems must be studied.

Using the Pearson Edexcel Level 1/Level 2 GCSE (9–1) Poetry Anthology, students should be prepared to compare language, structure, form and contextual features of two poems from the anthology. Teachers should ensure that students are aware of the context in which the poems were written and the influence this context may have had on the poems. Teachers are welcome to use the examples of contemporary poetry from any collection to help prepare their students for the unseen poetry task in Section B, Part 2. Students should also read poems beyond the anthology. Students will need to be able to analyse the ideas, language, form and structure of two unseen poems and compare them. It is possible that works from anthology poets could be used as unseen poems, however these works will be selected from outside of the anthology. Works by authors who are not in the anthology could also be used as unseen poems.

Teaching should focus on the study of whole texts, developing students' comprehension, critical reading and comparison skills, as well as their ability to produce clear and coherent writing using accurate Standard English. Wider reading of literary texts is also encouraged to help students develop their skills.

*See Appendix 3: Poetry Anthology lists for the lists of poems in each collection.

Understanding the relationship between a text and its context (AO3)

There are different kinds, or categories, of context which affect authors' work and the reader's response to it. Teaching should include:

- the author's own life and individual situation, including the place and time of writing, only where these relate to the text
- the historical setting, time and location of the text
- social and cultural contexts (e.g., attitudes in society; expectations of different cultural groups)
- the literary context of the text, for example, literary movements or genres
- the way in which texts are received and engaged with by different audiences, at different times (for example, how a text may be read differently in the twenty-first century from when it was written).
