

Specialisms and related
Areas of Study

Learners are required to work in two or more specialisms from those listed below:

- Fine Art: areas of study such as painting, printmaking or sculpture.
- Graphic Communication: areas of study such as illustration, packaging or advertising.
- Photography: areas of study such as traditional, digital or moving image.
- Textile Design: areas of study such as printed and digital textiles, fashion design or fabric construction.
- Three-Dimensional Design: areas of study such as ceramics, product design or jewellery.
- Critical and Contextual Studies: areas of study such as art theory, artistic movements or architecture.

Learners may choose one area of study and produce work appropriate to two or more specialisms such as portraiture in Fine Art and Photography.

Alternatively, learners may choose different areas of study such as installation and signage from two or more specialisms and combine them in a complementary way.

Techniques

Learners following the Art, Craft and Design – Combined Specialisms course should explore techniques relevant to the chosen area(s) of study as outlined for each chosen specialism.