

Overview

- Learners should be able to explore, research and analyse techniques and art, craft and design practices, developing their skills, knowledge and understanding in practical and written elements specific to Critical and Contextual Study. It is anticipated that the visual and textual analysis of art, craft and design work undertaken will be the central element in this specialism.
- Learners should show how they can demonstrate critical and contextual skills through researching, analysing and building understanding of one or more areas of study. An important focus is on the learner's ability to use detailed written and visual analysis when conducting research.
- Learners should demonstrate evidence of research and first-hand experience of works of art, craft and/or design.
- Learners must demonstrate analysis of a range of relevant works undertaken from one or more of the denoted areas of study, including supporting critical analysis using appropriate terminology.
- Learners must demonstrate an integrated and relevant portfolio of practical artwork.
- Drawing skills should be understood and developed as appropriate to the ways of recording and communicating intentions, ideas and emotions in the context of Critical and Contextual Studies.