

Human resource management within a business environment	Human resource management objectives	• explain human resource management objectives • explain how and why human resource management objectives are used by a business • explain the need for a business to have clear human resource management objectives • evaluate the usefulness of human resource management objectives to a business and its stakeholders • evaluate the importance of human resource management objectives in the achievement of a business' objectives • recommend and justify human resource objectives for a business.
	Organisation	• explain organisation structure: line relationships, staff relationships, chain of command, span of control, authority, responsibility, centralisation, decentralisation, delegation and layering • explain models of organisation structure: hierarchy; by function, by product; system, matrix, division • distinguish between tall and flat organisational structures • evaluate the usefulness of organisational structures used by a business • evaluate the significance of organisational structures to a business and its stakeholders • explain what is meant by organisational culture • explain factors affecting organisational culture in a business • evaluate the impact and importance which organisational culture can have on a business.

Area of Study	Content	Learners should be able to:
Human resource management within a business environment	Communication	• distinguish between formal and informal communication • evaluate the use of informal and formal communication by a business • explain what is meant by group norms • distinguish between group and individual objectives • evaluate the impact groups may have on business communication • distinguish between verbal and non-verbal communication methods • evaluate factors affecting the choice of communication methods to a business and its stakeholders • evaluate the importance of communication methods to a business and its stakeholders • explain communication media: written, face-to-face, oral, social, electronic and mass • evaluate factors affecting the choice of communication media by a business • evaluate the importance of communication media to a business and its stakeholders • explain models of communication: source, message, media, barriers, receiver and feedback • evaluate the usefulness of communication models to a business and its stakeholders • evaluate the impact of poor communication on a business and its stakeholders • evaluate the effect of communication on the stakeholders of a business • evaluate the effectiveness of communication in achieving a business' objectives.