

|                                        |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |
|----------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 5.1Demand for labour | Explain: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Derived demand for labour</li><li>• Factors affecting the demand for labour in an industry</li><li>• Factors affecting wage elasticity of demand for labour</li><li>• Productivity and unit labour costs</li></ul> Explain, with the aid of a diagram: <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Marginal revenue product theory in relation to employment and wage determination</li></ul> |
|----------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|