| B: The academic poster | The academic poster is a way to communicate about a complex topic (the learner's investigation) in a concise and visually accessible way. The aim of the learner's academic poster is to produce a well-researched and effectively organised overview of the learner's own independent investigation in a form that would be suitable for display at an undergraduate conference for English language research. The poster presentation is a recognised academic discipline and provides an opportunity for learners to demonstrate their ability to distil the detail of their investigation into its core features and findings. Elements that would be expected in an example of good practice for the poster would be: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• An introduction or description of the context</li> <li>• Aims and/or influences</li> <li>• An explanation of the methodology</li> <li>• A presentation of results</li> <li>• Conclusions</li> <li>• An evaluation exploring limitations to the study, and potential next steps.</li> </ul> The academic poster allows for creativity in its construction. It is multi modal in nature, communicating via text, graphics (often including graphs and charts) and colour. Graphological features should be used to aid the reader in navigating through the text, and to stimulate interest. | <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• show understanding of how the different areas of study connect across their course as a whole</li> <li>• apply critical and creative skills in production of texts and discourses</li> <li>• use accurately a range of terminology associated with the study of language</li> <li>• make accurate references to texts and sources</li> <li>• synthesise and reflect on knowledge and understanding drawn from their studies of English language</li> <li>• apply critical and creative skills in the production of their poster</li> <li>• demonstrate expertise in the use of English to communicate effectively.</li> </ul> |
