

Media audiences	Target audience	how and why media products are aimed at a range of audiences, from small, specialised audiences to large mass audiences.
	Technologies	the role of media technologies in reaching and identifying audiences, and in audience consumption and usage.
	Active audiences	the ways in which audiences may interpret the same media products very differently and how these differences may reflect both social and individual differences.

NEA briefs

Learners must respond to one of four set production briefs: two audio/visual, one print and one online, social and participatory. Each brief requires the learner to plan and research their production before creating their final production piece.

The set production briefs will be published on the OCR website on the 1st March each year for certification in the following academic year. For instance, for learners certificating in Summer 2025, the NEA briefs would be released in March 2024.

Production briefs will always be set in the following media forms:

- Magazines
- Television
- Music video
- Online, social and participatory.

Learners should pay close attention to the prescribed lengths and amounts stipulated in each brief. Learners will receive no reward for exceeding these prescribed lengths and amounts and excessive time spent on the NEA component will be to the detriment of developing knowledge, skills and understanding elsewhere in the qualification.

Statement of Intent

In addition to the final production piece, learners are expected to complete a Statement of Intent giving a brief outline of their plans for the production piece. The Statement of Intent is assessed alongside the production and gives learners the opportunity to explain the ways in which they will apply their knowledge and understanding of media language and representation and how they will target their intended audience.

The Statement of Intent must be submitted with the production and is a compulsory element of the non-exam assessment
