

Dialogue between religious and non-religious groups Key philosophical and ethical concepts: • Beliefs • Religious values • Secular values	• Different Muslim views and attitudes towards non-religious worldviews • Muslim values and ideals shared with: ◦ Atheism ◦ Agnosticism ◦ Humanism ◦ Secularism • The significance of shared values and ideals between religious and non-religious groups for individuals, communities and society • Whether secular values should take precedence over Muslim religious values • Potential areas of disagreement and difference between Islam and the following: ◦ Atheism ◦ Agnosticism ◦ Humanism ◦ Secularism • The significance of these potential areas of disagreement and difference for individuals, communities and society. Learners should be aware of the justifications Muslims give for different views, attitudes and understandings, from the perspectives of different Muslim groups.	• Surah Al-Baqarah 2:256 states that religion should not be forced on people • The British Humanist Association • The National Secular Society
--	---	--

Religion, philosophy and ethics in the modern world from a Jewish perspective (J625/08)

Learners will need to be familiar with the expectations laid out on page 45 of the specification.

Relationships and families
Area of study	Content Learners should have studied the following:	Suggested sources of wisdom and authority (Learners will be given credit for referring to any appropriate sources of wisdom and authority)