

Buddhist understandings of equality Key philosophical and ethical concepts: - Relationship between religion and culture - Justification of equality - Equality and difference - Gender inequalities - Embedded inequalities	- Buddhist teachings and beliefs about equality - The influence of culture on attitudes and views about equality - Buddhist views and attitudes on the importance of equality for individuals, communities and society - Buddhist attitudes and beliefs about prejudice and discrimination on the basis of gender - Buddhist teachings about equality and discrimination in relation to gender Learners should be aware of the justifications Buddhists give for different views, attitudes and understandings, from the perspectives of different Buddhist groups.	- The Buddha spoke out against inequality in the caste system: “Not by birth is one a Bramana, nor is one by birth no Bramana; by work (kammāna) one is a Bramana, by work one is no Brāmana.” (Sutta Nipata Book 3 Chapter 9:7) - Mahayana views of karuna in the six paramitas - The stories about Queen Mallika show the Buddha as opposed to gender discrimination - Samyutta Nikaya 5.2 (Soma Sutta 129)
The existence of Ultimate Reality
Area of study	Content Learners should have studied the following:	Suggested sources of wisdom and authority (Learners will be given credit for referring to any appropriate sources of wisdom and authority)