

Content of Literature post-1900

The aim of this internally assessed component is to encourage individual study, interest and enjoyment of modern literature and for learners to develop:

- an appreciation of how writers shape meanings in texts through use of language, imagery, form and structure
- an understanding of texts informed by an appreciation of different interpretations
- an ability to explore connections across texts, such as stylistic, thematic or contextual.

The texts and task titles for component 03, Literature post-1900, should be chosen by the learner in discussion with their teacher but all texts and task titles must be approved for use by OCR.

Centres should use the Literature post-1900 text(s) and task(s) tool to select text combinations and task titles for use. The tool contains an extensive database of pre-approved texts and tasks and we would advise choosing from these lists where possible.

You can access the Literature post-1900 text(s) and task(s) tool through the OCR website (see Appendix 5f). There is no restriction on the number of learners choosing the same texts and/or task title. However, this non-exam assessment component should be seen as an opportunity for learners to develop their independent skills of reading and research. It is therefore advisable to create opportunities for learners to exercise some choice of texts and/or tasks for study.

If you cannot find a suitable text and/or task for learners on the pre-approved lists, you can use the Literature post-1900 text(s) and task(s) tool to propose additional texts and/or tasks for approval.

It is the centre's responsibility to ensure that all text and task combinations for all learners are submitted via the Literature post-1900 text(s) and task(s) tool as part of the 'tell us once' approach. Centres are advised to wait until they have received confirmation of approval from OCR before learners begin working on the tasks.

Centres are reminded of the text requirements for this component:

- learners are required to study three literary texts (one text for Task 1 and two texts for Task 2)
- the three texts must include one prose text, one poetry text and one drama text
- the texts must have been first published or performed in 1900 or later
- at least one of these texts must have been first published or performed in 2000 or later.

The OCR Non Exam Assessment guide offers support with structuring task titles so that they reflect the assessment requirements. <https://www.ocr.org.uk/Images/210249-non-exam-assessment-guide-component-03-literature-post-1900.pdf>

Centres must use the Literature post-1900 text(s) and task(s) tool to submit their choices. The deadline for submitting texts and task choices is 31st January of the year of assessment.
