

This section provides knowledge and understanding of Newton's laws – fundamental laws that can be used to predict the motion of all colliding or interacting objects.

There are many opportunities for learners to carry out experimental work and analyse data using ICT techniques (HSW3).