

Areas of Study	Learners are required to work in one or more area(s) of Three-Dimensional Design, such as those listed below. Combinations of these areas are also possible. • Architectural design • Interior design • Product design • Exhibition design • Environmental/landscape design • Sculpture • Design for theatre, film and television • Jewellery and body adornment • Ceramics • Design communications Techniques Learners must demonstrate the ability to work creatively with processes and techniques appropriate to the chosen area(s) of study such as: computer-aided design, model-making, prototyping, constructing, assembling. An understanding of the relationship between form and function is essential.
-----------------------	--