

Evaluate (AO3)

Evaluation establishes whether the need(s) of the user(s) and stakeholder(s) have been met. Ideas (sketches and models) generated and developed within 'create' are used to test and systematically evaluate their appropriateness against the stakeholder requirements identified as part of 'explore'. Where needs have not been satisfactorily met, more exploration and creating of ideas will be

. New or developed ideas will need to be critically evaluated.

ative process is repeated until all user and der needs have been met in line with der requirements. Each evaluation informs the next iteration and should be evident to the learner's challenge project. In order to learners should select from a variety of suitable techniques that will help them to systematically objectively test the solutions developed to identified stakeholder requirements.
