

Section B	Content	Learners should be able to:
Writing original non-fiction for different audiences and purposes.	Learners produce clear and coherent non-fiction pieces, including writing to: • describe • explain • inform • instruct • argue • persuade. Learners produce original texts in a range of non-fiction forms, for example, articles, speeches and letters. They develop skills to adapt their writing for different purposes, audiences and contexts. Learners explore how vocabulary and grammatical features can be used to achieve particular effects. They use techniques identified from their wide reading of non-fiction texts to achieve specific effects. Learners apply their knowledge and understanding of appropriate linguistic conventions and use rhetorical devices effectively.	• organise ideas and information clearly and coherently • select and emphasise key ideas and information to influence readers and reflect the purpose of the writing • maintain a consistent viewpoint across a non-fiction piece of writing • make considered choices of vocabulary and grammar to reflect particular audiences, purposes and contexts • adapt tone, style and register as appropriate • use the knowledge gained from wider reading of non-fiction to inform language choices and techniques • make appropriate use of information provided by others to write in different forms • cite evidence and quotation effectively to support views • write to create emotional impact • use a range of sentence structures for clarity, purpose and effect, with accurate punctuation and spelling.
