

3.1 KNOWLEDGE AND UNDERSTANDING (AO1)

Candidates should be able to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of:

- psychological models, including biological, behavioural, social and cognitive models;
- psychological processes, including learning, development, individual differentiation and social influence;
- psychological issues, including reasons for human behaviour, the effects of applications of psychology, and ethics of enquiry and intervention.