

8.1 ICT

In order to play a full part in modern society, candidates need to be confident and effective users of ICT. Where appropriate, candidates should be given opportunities to use ICT in order to further their study of Psychology.

The assessment of this course requires candidates to carry out and write up an internally assessed task. The use of ICT is not mandatory, but candidates who have access to ICT could utilise its various applications to research background material for their investigation and to write it up.

This Sub-section offers guidance on opportunities for using ICT during the course. These opportunities are also indicated within the content of Sub-section 6 by a  symbol. Such opportunities may or may not contribute to the provision of evidence for IT. Key Skills. Where such opportunities do contribute, they are identified by the use of a  symbol.

ICT Application/Development	Opportunities for using ICT during the course
Word Processing	Coursework task.
Excel	Data analysis, tables, graphs and charts in coursework task.
CD materials	Obtaining background material for coursework task. Learning and revision exercises.
Internet	Obtaining background material for coursework task.