

Component 2: Text in Performance

Overview

Students will develop and demonstrate theatre-making skills, appropriate to their role as a performer or designer. They will explore how they realise artistic intentions in performance.

The knowledge and understanding acquired through the study of one key extract from a performance text in Component 1 can be applied to assist in the interpretation, development and realisation of key extracts from performance texts.

Teaching and wider reading should address the significance and influence of social, historical and cultural contexts on the chosen texts and extracts.

Content

There are two areas of focus.

- 1) A monologue or a duologue performance/design realisation from one key extract from one performance text.
- 2) A group performance/design realisation of one key extract from a different performance text.

Students may complete this component either as a performer or as a designer or combine these roles.

The design roles are:

- costume design
- lighting design
- set design
- sound design.

Centres wanting to offer design roles to students should refer to Appendix 3: Design roles minimum resource guidance for centres.

Text and extract choice

Centres have a choice when selecting texts. However, the two key extracts must be from two different performance texts, these texts must meet the following criteria.

- Be professionally published, substantial and have a running time of at least 60 minutes.
- Be chosen so it offers students the opportunity to demonstrate exploratory range and depth.
- Offer students the opportunity to access the demands of this component as a performer and/or designer.
- Have the degree of challenge, in terms of appropriateness of content, complexity of themes, deeper social, historical and cultural contexts to enable students to achieve at A level and meet the Assessment Objective.
- Be different from the texts studied in Component 1 and Component 3, so students study a range of performance texts.
- Cannot be any prescribed text from the Component 3 lists.

The performance texts chosen could be different in terms of their:

- time period
- theatrical convention/genre
- thematic content, form/structure and style
- playwright
- social, historical and cultural contexts.

Centres may select performance texts by a playwright already studied in Components 1 and 3 provided there is a difference between these texts. They should consider the skills, experience and prior learning of students in choosing texts that will engage students' interest throughout the considerable preparation and rehearsal time needed for this Component.

Students must study two key extracts from two different performance texts. For the purposes of this qualification, a key extract is defined as a scene or a moment that is significant to the text as a whole and at least 10 minutes in length when performed. This can take the form of a continuous dialogue/scene, or edited extracts, for example abridging the extract to match the number of performers in a group. For the monologue/duologue, the extract chosen may be edited to provide the required amount of material, but must provide a coherent monologue or duologue.

Students are required to perform/realise a design for all or part of these key extracts, following the time limit requirements below. Centres can choose different performance texts, all students are not required to study the same texts.

Centres should consider the skills, experience and prior learning of students in choosing texts that will engage their interest throughout the considerable preparation and rehearsal time needed for this component.

Centres are reminded that they must complete a form regarding text choice, please refer to page 7 for details.

Group sizes and time limits

All students must be assessed as individuals.

Monologue and duologue

The regulatory requirements are that students must meet the minimum performance times below.

Number of performers	Minimum performance times	Maximum performance times
Monologue (1 performer)	2 minutes	3 minutes
Duologue (2 performers)	5 minutes	6 minutes

Group performance

A group must have between a minimum of three and maximum of six performance students. In addition there can be up to one designer per role, per group.

The regulatory requirements are that groups must complete a minimum performance time of 6 minutes for this component.

The recommended minimum performance times have been provided to ensure that each student within the group has sufficient time to evidence their skills for this component.

Group size	Recommended minimum performance times	Maximum performance times
3–4 performance students	20 minutes	30 minutes
5–6 performance students	35 minutes	45 minutes

Centres should be aware that performance times that are between the regulatory minimum (6 minutes) and the recommended minimums (20 or 35 minutes) may not allow students to evidence their skills fully in order to access all levels of the assessment criteria.

Meeting the performance timings

For students (performance and design) who do not meet the regulatory minimum performance requirement of 2, 5 and/or 6 minutes the examiner will use their professional judgement against the AO2 assessment criteria based on what the student has achieved and then the total mark will be reduced proportionally according to how many seconds the work is under length.

The proportional time penalty will be applied, by Pearson Edexcel, after the work has been marked by the examiner, using the conversion tables in Appendix 5.

Examiners will be instructed to stop marking after the maximum performance time has passed.

The performances/design realisations

Students must draw on their experiences of the exploration and rehearsal process in order to present coherent, well considered interpretations of the two key extracts in their performances. These interpretations must include placing the key extracts in the context of the whole performance texts.

Knowledge and understanding

Students (as performers or designers) are required to:

- read and research their chosen extracts
- understand social, historical and cultural contexts, style and genres, thematic content, contemporary practice and theatre makers
- develop textual understanding to communicate well-considered and coherent interpretations of text in performance.

Also students must know how performance texts are constructed to convey meaning through:

- style, structure, language and stage directions
- character construction and interpretation
- use of performance space and spatial relationships on stage
- relationships between performers and audience
- use of design elements.

Skills

Students (as performers or designers) must acquire, develop and apply skills in:

- working independently or collaboratively as performers or designers to interpret text, in rehearsal and in performance
- making appropriate judgements about the interpretation of texts in performance
- researching and developing ideas
- demonstrating the ability to apply acting/design skills effectively in the context of a performance to an audience.

Performers must also acquire, develop and apply the following skills:

- refining and amending work in progress with the aim to realising their artistic intentions
- rehearsing and learning lines
- characterisation through:
 - o vocal expression: use of clarity, pace, inflection, pitch and projection
 - o physicality: use of space, gesture, stillness and stance
- contact, relationships and communication with other performers on stage (proxemics)
- communication and engagement with the audience.

Requirements for performances/design realisations

All performances/design realisations should take place in front of an appropriate audience and must be recorded. Centres are free to identify their own suitable audience and venue for the performance, this could include:

- performance to the rest of the class or another class within the centre
- performance to an invited external audience.

Monologue and duologue performances/design realisations

Teachers should adopt a facilitating role but they are not allowed to direct performance(s). They can give guidance during the practical work and the preparation for the performance(s) but not during the performance(s) itself.

When in a facilitating role, teachers are allowed to:

- help students with interpreting assessment information, e.g. explaining the assessment criteria and the requirements of the component
- intervene if a health and safety issue arises
- intervene if a risk to security of evidence arises
- undertake a management role in relation to managing time, space, resources
- ask questions to stimulate independent thought without leading students.

When in a facilitating role, teachers are not allowed to:

- offer coaching
- direct students
- undertake an artistic/creative role
- give solutions to artistic/creative problems
- make artistic/creative decisions.

Group performances/design realisations

Teachers should adopt a facilitating role and may direct. They may direct and give guidance during the practical work and the preparation for performance(s) but not during the performance(s).

When directing, teachers are allowed to:

- interpret and structure the text as written to meet the demands of the examination (time limits etc.)
- suggest solutions to artistic and creative problems referring to the assessment criteria if appropriate
- make artistic and creative decisions referring to the assessment criteria if appropriate (however, they should not make direct judgements about the assessment criteria or allocate marks).

Students should also take into consideration any health and safety implications as appropriate.

Design roles

Designers are expected to work collaboratively with a group of performers (and other designers, if appropriate) within their chosen area of design.

Where a student is assessed in the role of a designer, it is their design skill that is the focus of the assessment, rather than their technical competence in the operation or use of equipment.

The performance texts should provide sufficient challenges for design students to enable them to meet the demands of this component. Design elements should be suitably theatrical and work in sympathy with other design features. All designs should also take into consideration actor/audience relationships and health and safety implications as appropriate.

There is a maximum of one designer per role, per group.

Designers must also acquire, develop and apply the following skills:

- make appropriate judgements during the development process
- develop and articulate a design concept
- make appropriate design choices within the context of a performance to an audience
- use design skills to contribute to the performance as a whole
- demonstrate the ability to apply design skills and materials effectively within the context of a performance to an audience.

A list of the requirements for each design skill for this component is given on the next page.

Assessment information

This component is externally assessed by a visiting examiner or by an examiner assessing the recorded live performance. It is worth 60 marks and AO2 is assessed.

First assessment: 2018

The performances must be recorded by the centre and unedited. Please refer to Appendix 4: Best practice when recording performance. This recorded evidence is to be sent to the examiner.

The monologue or duologue performance/design realisation is worth 24 marks. AO2 is assessed.

The group performance/design realisation is worth 36 marks. AO2 is assessed.

A realisation of each design candidate's work must be seen and assessed in both performances.

Teachers cannot give support and guidance during the performances.

All centres must provide the following information to their examiner before their examination:

- a declaration that all key extracts studied by students meet the requirements to be from a scene or a moment that is significant to the text as a whole and at least 10 minutes in length when performed.
- indication of group numbers and performance lengths
- character/design role information for each student to be assessed
- the performance texts chosen for Component 1 and 3 (in order for the different text requirement to be checked)
- a brief explanation by each student of the intention for each performance or design (150–250 words per key extract studied).

The explanation must include the following:

- for performance students (150–250 words per character played)
 - what role(s) are you playing?
 - what is happening to your character(s) in the key extract?
 - how does the key extract relate to the context of the whole play?
 - what are your character's objectives/motivations/feelings?
 - how are you interpreting this character(s) in performance? (i.e. vocal, physical, communication of intent)
- for design students (150–250 words per extract designed for)
 - what design role are you fulfilling?
 - what is your central design concept in the key extract?
 - how does the key extract relate to the context of the whole play?
 - how have you interpreted this key extract through your design?
 - what are you hoping to communicate to the audience?

Performers will be assessed on their ability to realise artistic intentions through the:

- use of vocal and physical skills
- use of characterisation and communication
- interpretation of text.

Designers will be assessed on their ability to realise artistic intentions through the:

- use of design skills
- understanding of context and communication
- interpretation of text.

Non-assessed individuals

Non-assessed individuals should be used only when:

- the total number of students in the cohort does not meet the minimum group size requirement
- a student has withdrawn from the performance near to the assessment date
- a student is absent on the day of the assessment.

Non-assessed individuals may be used to read out the lines of the absent student(s) to support the performance group. Please note that a non-assessed individual may be a class peer, student from a different year group or a member of staff. Assessed and non-assessed individuals must be clearly identified at the start of the recorded evidence to aid assessment.

Permission must be sought from Pearson in advance for the inclusion of non-assessed individuals. Please email your requests to drama.assessment@pearson.com and upload a copy of the confirmation approval email to Learner Work Transfer when submitting assessment materials.
