

7.3 Emerging powers vary in their influence on people and the physical environment, which can change rapidly over time.	a. A number of emerging countries, including Brazil, Russia, India and China (BRIC) and other G20 members, are increasingly important to global economic and political systems, as well as global environment governance (UN Climate Change Conference).
	b. Each has evolving strengths and weaknesses (economic, political, military, cultural, demographic and environmental) that might inhibit or advance their economic and geopolitical role in the future.
	c. Contrasting development theories (World Systems Theory, Dependency Theory, Modernisation Theory) can be used to help explain changing patterns of power.
