

2.3.3 Managing quality	The concept of quality and its importance in: • the production of goods and the provision of services: quality control and quality assurance • allowing a business to control costs and gain a competitive advantage.
-----------------------------------	--