

6.6 Meeting the demands for energy resources can involve interventions by different interest groups	a. How attitudes to the exploitation and consumption of energy resources vary with different stakeholders (individuals, organisations and governments).
---	--