

Topic 9: Sleep and dreaming – Why do you need to sleep and dream?

Subject content	What students need to learn:
9.1 Sleep and dreaming	9.1.1 Understand the functions, features and benefits of sleep, including: - the four sleep stages - REM - the sleep cycle
	9.1.2 Understand the internal and external influences on sleep, including strengths and weaknesses of each explanation: - bodily rhythms, to include - circadian rhythms - ultradian rhythms - hormones, to include - pineal gland - melatonin - zeitgebers, to include - light
	9.1.3 Understand symptoms and explanations of sleep disorders, including: - insomnia - narcolepsy
	9.1.4 Understand Freudian theory of dreaming (Freud, 1900), including strengths and weaknesses of the theory: - manifest content - latent content - dreamwork
	9.1.5 Understand Activation Synthesis Theory (Hobson and McCarley, 1977), including strengths and weaknesses of the theory: - random activation - sensory blockade - movement inhibition