

7. Differentiation
7.1	Applications of differentiation to maxima and minima and stationary points, increasing and decreasing functions.	To include applications to curve sketching. Maxima and minima problems may be set in the context of a practical problem.