

1.5 Consider writers' purposes and viewpoints, and the overall effect of the text on the reader.

- Identify the main purpose of the text.
- Identify the purpose and audience of non-fiction texts.
- Distinguish between fact and opinion.
- Understand themes and purposes of text through prediction.
- Comment on the intention of the writer's use of specific literary devices.

Reading skills

Reading skills need to be applied to the following.

Non-fiction

Students should gain experience of reading the following text types:

- autobiography/biography
- journals
- leaflets/brochures/guides
- newspaper/magazine articles
- instructions
- recount
- reports.

Students should gain experience of reading a variety of non-fiction texts that are written to:

- argue
- describe
- explain
- inform
- persuade.

Fiction

Students should gain experience of reading the following genres:

- adventure
- fantasy
- historical
- mystery
- science-fiction.

Students should gain experience of reading a variety of fiction texts that give the following narrative perspectives:

- first person
- third person
- omniscient.