

The marketing strategy	The marketing mix	• explain what is meant by the marketing mix • explain what is meant by a marketing strategy • distinguish between local, national and international/global marketing contexts • evaluate an appropriate marketing mix for local, national and international/global contexts.
	Product	• explain what is meant by 'product' • evaluate the product strategy of a business using: ○ product life cycle ○ value analysis ○ Boston matrix ○ Ansoff's matrix ○ product portfolio analysis • explain what is meant by a unique selling point (USP) • identify the USP of a business • explain how and why a USP is used by a business • explain what is meant by a 'brand' and 'branding' • evaluate the importance of a brand to a business and its stakeholders • evaluate the importance of product as an element of the marketing mix to a business and its stakeholders • evaluate the impact and importance of product differentiation for a business and its stakeholders • recommend and justify a product mix as part of a marketing strategy.

Area of Study	Content	Learners should be able to:
The marketing strategy	Price	• explain what is meant by 'price' • evaluate the possible pricing strategies of a business, including: ○ skimming ○ penetration ○ competition-based ○ psychological ○ cost-plus (full-cost based) ○ marginal ○ contribution • explain what is meant by price, income and cross elasticities of demand • calculate and interpret price, income and cross elasticities of demand • evaluate the usefulness of price, income and cross elasticities of demand to a business • evaluate the impact and importance of price for a business and its stakeholders • recommend and justify a pricing mix as part of a marketing strategy.
	Place	• explain what is meant by 'place' • evaluate possible distribution strategies of a business, including: ○ channels of distribution ○ online, digital and physical distribution (logistics) ○ patterns of distribution • evaluate the impact and importance of place to a business and its stakeholders • recommend and justify a 'place' mix as part of a marketing strategy.

Area of Study	Content	Learners should be able to:
The marketing strategy	Promotion	• explain what is meant by 'promotion' • evaluate possible promotion strategies for a business including: ○ above the line ○ below the line ○ branding ○ personal selling ○ Internet ○ social media ○ drip marketing ○ viral marketing • explain what is meant by advertising elasticity of demand • calculate and interpret advertising elasticity of demand • evaluate the usefulness of advertising elasticity calculations to a business • evaluate the impact and importance of promotion to a business and its stakeholders of a business • recommend and justify a promotional mix as part of a marketing strategy.
	Service marketing	• explain what is meant by service marketing • explain the additional elements used in the marketing of a service (process, people, physical evidence) • evaluate the impact and importance of 'process', 'people' and 'physical evidence' in the marketing of a service • recommend and justify a marketing mix for a service as part of a marketing strategy.