

1.5 Practical activities	Learners are expected to conduct and analyse their own small-scale research practicals in order to become fully familiar with the content of this component. It is suggested that they create a research portfolio and write-up the practicals they conduct.
	Learners should have experience of the following practical activities: • self-report • observation • experiment • correlation.

