

Section B Option 2: Youth subcultures
Key questions	Content	Learners should:
cont. Why do young people participate in deviant subcultures?	Explanations for young people participating in deviant subcultures: • functionalism / New Right • Marxism / neo-Marxism • interactionism • culture and identity The media and youth deviance: • deviance amplification • folk devils • moral panics	consider both theoretical and identity based explanations, which could include issues of ethnic identity and gender.

Section B Option 3: Media
This option focuses on how media plays an increasingly important role as an agent of socialisation in contemporary society. It allows learners to explore a range of evidence relating to media representations and media effects.
Key questions	Content	Learners should:
1. How are different social groups represented in the media?	Evidence of representations in the media and how far these are changing in relation to: • ethnicity (majority and minority ethnic groups) • gender (masculinity and femininity) • social class (middle, working, upper, under) • age (young and old) Theoretical views of media representations: • Marxism • neo-Marxism • pluralism • feminism • postmodernism	be able to discuss representation of a range of ethnicities. For example learners could consider UK nationalities (Irish, Scottish, Welsh, English) and also newer immigrant groups as well as more established minority ethnic groups. understand explanations for these representations, and any changing representations, utilising theoretical perspectives as appropriate. consider issues of consensus versus conflict, social order and control in relation to theoretical views of media representations. use postmodernism as a critique of other theoretical views.
2. What effect do the media have on audiences?	Theoretical views of media effects: • direct • indirect • active audience The role of the media in deviance amplification and the creation of moral panics	understand a range of theories on the effects of the media on the audience, including: hypodermic syringe; two-step flow; cultural effects; uses and gratifications.