

Media language	Media language elements	- the various forms of media language used to create and communicate meanings in media products - fundamental principles of semiotic analysis, including denotation and connotation.
	Media language and meaning	how choice (selection, combination and exclusion) of elements of media language influences meaning in media products, including to create narratives, to portray aspects of reality, to construct points of view, and to represent the world in ways that convey messages and values.
	Technology and media language	the relationship between technology and media products.
	Generic conventions	the codes and conventions of media language, how they develop and become established as 'styles' or genres (which are common across different media products).
	Intertextuality	intertextuality, including how inter-relationships between different media products can influence meaning.