

Media representations	Mediation	the ways in which the media re-present (rather than simply present) the world, and construct versions of reality.
	Selection	- the choices media producers make about how to represent particular events, social groups and ideas - theoretical perspectives on representation, including processes of selection, construction and mediation.
	Stereotypes	the different functions and uses of stereotypes, including an understanding of how stereotypes become established, how they may vary over time, and how stereotypes enable audiences to interpret media quickly.
	Themes and ideologies	- how representations (including self-representations) convey particular viewpoints, messages, values and beliefs, which may be reinforced across a wide range of media products - the social, cultural and political significance of particular representations in terms of the themes or issues that they address - theoretical perspectives on gender and representation, including feminist approaches.