

Violence and conflict Key philosophical and ethical concepts: • Forms of violence • War • Justification of violence • Justified warfare	• The way religious teachings about violence are applied and understood by individuals and Buddhist communities • The role and understanding of religious teachings about violence in society • The role of Buddhist individuals, communities and society in violent conflicts • Causes of terrorism • The relationship between religion, politics and terrorism in the 21st century • Different Buddhist attitudes towards terrorism and the causes of terrorism • Justifications for waging war – application of the Middle Way • The concept of Holy War • Religious attitudes to behaviours during war • Different Buddhist attitudes to conventional warfare (armies in conflict), technological warfare (Drones and surgical strikes) and apocalyptic warfare (nuclear) Learners should be aware of the justifications Buddhists give for different views, attitudes and understandings, from the perspectives of different Buddhist groups.	• The Five Precepts • Sangama Sutta: Samyutta Nikaya 3:15: ◦ “And so, through the cycle of action, he who has plundered gets plundered in turn.” • The Upayakausalya Sutra which tells the story of one of the Buddha’s past lives as a sea captain, who killed a would-be murderer and also stopped his passenger from becoming murderers themselves
---	--	--