

2 Probability

Subject content	Additional information
2.1 Know and use language and symbols associated with set theory in the context of probability.	The complement of the set A will be denoted by the symbol A' .
2.2 Represent and interpret probabilities using tree diagrams, Venn diagrams and two-way tables.
2.3 Calculate and compare probabilities: single, independent, mutually exclusive and conditional probabilities.
2.4 Use and apply the laws of probability to include conditional probability.	To include addition and multiplication laws.
2.5 Determine if two events are statistically independent.	