Assessment information

This component is internally assessed and externally moderated. It is worth 60 marks and AO1, AO2 and AO4 are assessed.

First assessment: 2018

There are two parts to the assessment.

- 1) A portfolio containing evidence of:
 - creating and developing the group/duologue devised performance/design realisation
 - analysing and evaluating this creation and development
 - analysing and evaluating the group/duologue devised performance/design realisation.
- 2) A recording of the group/duologue devised final performance.

The portfolio

All students must document the practical creation and development of ideas, along with the analysis and evaluation of this process and their performance of the devised work.

The portfolio is worth 45 marks. AO1 and AO4 are assessed – AO1 is worth 30 marks and AO4 is worth 15 marks.

The portfolio is marked by the teacher and sent to the moderator if requested as part of the sample, along with the accompanying performance recording(s).

The portfolio must be the student's own work.

For each student the portfolio must cover the following:

- their contribution to the creation, development and realisation
- consideration of genre, structure, character, form, style, and language
- successful communication of intentions
- health and safety issues.

Each student must include a response to the following questions.

- What was your initial response to the stimuli and what were the intentions of the piece?
- What work did your group do in order to explore the stimuli and start to create ideas for performance?
- What were some of the significant moments during the development process and when rehearsing and refining your work?
- How did you consider genre, structure, character, form, style, and language throughout the process?
- How effective was your contribution to the final performance?
- Were you successful in what you set out to achieve?

Portfolios may include any of the following elements:

- annotations and notes
- audio and/or video evidence
- annotated drawings and sketches
- annotated photographs
- extended written responses.

It is recommended that the portfolio submitted is:

- handwritten/typed evidence between 1500 and 2000 words

or

- recorded/verbal evidence between 8 and 10 minutes

or

- a combination of handwritten/typed evidence (between 750 and 1000 words) and recorded/verbal evidence (between 4 and 5 minutes).

It is strongly advisable that the upper word/time limits are adhered to by students to enable them to satisfy the requirement to produce a concise and coherently structured response.

When students are working on producing their portfolio teachers must follow these rules:

- students must be directly supervised for a sufficient portion of the creation of the portfolio to allow teachers to confidently authenticate each student's work
- teachers should not write any part of a student's portfolio
- teachers may help students to understand the assessment requirements of the task (e.g. length of the task)
- teachers can provide feedback once on one draft version for the portfolio before it is handed in to be marked
- the focus of this feedback must only be on the requirements of the portfolio and the Assessment Objectives
- any additional feedback must be recorded on the Non-examination assessment authentication sheet (see Appendix 1).

The group/duologue-devised performance

The recorded and unedited devised performance is marked by the teacher and moderated by Pearson. Please refer to Appendix 4: Best practice when recording performance.

The performance/design realisation is worth 15 marks. AO2 is assessed.

The recorded evidence must be sent to the moderator if requested as part of the sample along with the accompanying portfolios.

A realisation of design candidates' work must be seen and assessed in the performance.

Teachers should adopt a facilitating role in this component and they are not allowed to direct performance(s). They can give guidance during the practical work and the preparation for the devised performance but not during the performance itself.

When in a facilitating role, teachers are allowed to:

- help students with interpreting assessment information, e.g. explaining the assessment criteria and the requirements of the component
- intervene if a health and safety issue arises
- intervene if a risk to security of evidence arises
- undertake a management role in relation to managing time, space, resources
- ask questions to stimulate independent thought without leading students.

When in a facilitating role, teachers are not allowed to:

- offer coaching
- direct students
- undertake an artistic/creative role
- give solutions to artistic/creative problems
- make artistic/creative decisions.

Performers will be assessed on their ability to realise artistic intentions through the:

- use of vocal and physical skills
- creation of character
- communication of creative intent to an audience
- understanding of style, genre and theatrical conventions.

Designers will be assessed on their ability to realise artistic intentions through the:

- use of design skills
- use of design skills to contribute to and support the performance as a whole
- communication of creative intent to audience
- understanding of practical application and production elements.

Non-assessed individuals

Non-assessed individuals should be used only when:

- the total number of students in the cohort does not meet the minimum group size requirement
- a student has withdrawn from the performance near to the assessment date
- a student is absent on the day of the assessment.

Non-assessed individuals may be used to read out the lines of the absent student(s) to support the performance group/duologue. Please note that a non-assessed individual may be a class peer, student from a different year group or a member of staff. Assessed and non-assessed individuals must be clearly identified at the start of the recorded evidence to aid moderation.

Permission must be sought from Pearson in advance for the inclusion of non-assessed individuals. Please email your requests to drama.assessment@pearson.com.

A copy of the email from our Drama Assessment team must be included with the work sent to the moderator.

Resources

Students must have equal access to IT resources and other equipment, as appropriate. Students must have access to a range of resources to enable them to make choices as required for this component.

Authenticity

Students and teachers must sign the Non-examination assessment authentication sheet (please see Appendix 1). All sources must be acknowledged.

Teachers can give support and guidance in the development of the performance but not during the performance itself.

Marking, standardisation and moderation

Teachers should mark this component using the assessment criteria on the following pages. Teachers may annotate students' work but should also include any comments on the Appendix 1: Non-examination assessment authentication sheet to justify the marks awarded. Any annotations made by the teacher are to be left on the portfolio.

Where marking has been carried out by more than one teacher in a centre, there must be a process of internal standardisation carried out to ensure that there is a consistent application of the assessment criteria.

Marks awarded by the centre will be subject to external moderation by Pearson. Moderation will ensure consistency with national standards and will include a review of assignments to ensure that the assignment-setting rules have been correctly applied by centres. Pearson will notify centres of the students whose work has been selected for moderation. This sample will take cohort size into account. Detailed instructions will be made available for teacher-assessed non-examination assessment and this will include instructions regarding:

- internal standardisation
- materials required for submission (such as timesheets and authentication forms, or additional design skills documentation submitted as part of the design students' portfolio)
- the required sample of candidates (the highest and lowest scoring candidates and a range in between).

In addition to this, centre marking training will be organised by Pearson and will include training on the administrative requirements and best practice.

Moderators of non-examination assessment components will be trained in the administrative arrangements that are required of centres and will be instructed to inform Pearson of any maladministration or malpractice concerns during the process of moderation.

If the moderation indicates that centre assessment does not reflect national standards, an adjustment will be made to students' final marks to compensate.

For further information please refer to the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ) document Instructions for Conducting Non-examination assessment (new GCE and GCSE specifications) available on the JCQ website: www.jcq.org.uk

The assessment of this qualification must comply with these instructions.

Consortium arrangements

If you are a centre that will be part of a consortium, your students will be treated as a single group for the purposes of non-examination assessment moderation.

You need to identify a consortium coordinator who must ensure that internal standardisation is carried out by all the teachers involved in each component.

We will allocate the same moderator to every centre within the consortium for a particular component, with confirmation or adjustment of marks being applied to all centres within the consortium.

Centres must register their consortium arrangements using the JCQ centre consortium form available at www.jcq.org.uk/exams-office/forms/centre-consortium-arrangements-form which then must be sent to Pearson.

Assessment criteria

Teachers must mark students' work using the following assessment criteria. Each mark grid identifies which Assessment Objective is being targeted.

Marking guidance

- All students must receive the same treatment. Teachers must mark the last student in exactly the same way as they mark the first.
- The assessment criteria should be applied positively. Students must be rewarded for what they have shown they can do rather than be penalised for omissions.
- All the marks on the assessment criteria are designed to be awarded. Teachers should always award full marks if deserved, i.e. if the work matches the assessment criteria. Teachers should be prepared to award zero marks if the student's work is not worthy of credit according to the assessment criteria.

Placing a mark within a level

- Teachers should first decide which descriptor most closely matches the work and place it in that level. The mark awarded within the level will be decided based on the quality of the work and will be modified according to how securely all bullet points are displayed at that level.
- In cases of uneven performance, the points above will still apply. Students will be placed in the level that best describes their work according to the descriptors in that level.
- If work meets the requirements fully, markers should be prepared to award full marks within the level. The top mark in the level is used for work that is as good as can realistically be expected within that level.
- If work only barely meets the requirements of the level, markers should consider awarding marks at the bottom of the level. The bottom mark in the level is used for work that is the weakest that can be expected within that level.
- The middle marks of the level are used for work that is a reasonable match to the descriptor. This might represent a balance between some characteristics of the level that are fully met and others that are only barely met.

Security and backups

It is the centre's responsibility to keep the work that students have submitted for assessment secure.

Secure storage is defined as a securely-locked cabinet or cupboard. Where students are producing artefacts, secure storage is defined as a classroom studio or workshop that is locked or supervised from the end of one session to the start of the next.

The rules on storage also apply to electronic data. For example, centres should collect memory sticks for secure storage between sessions or restrict student access to specific areas of the centre's IT network.

For materials stored electronically, centres are strongly advised to utilise firewall protection and virus-checking software, and to employ an effective backup strategy, so that an up-to-date archive of students' evidence is maintained.

Further information

For up-to-date advice on teacher involvement and administration of non-examination assessments, please refer to the Joint Council for Qualifications (JCQ) document Instructions for conducting non-examination assessments (new GCE and GCSE specifications) available on the JCQ website: www.jcq.org.uk

Component 2: Performance from Text

Overview

Performance texts have been at the core of drama since the inception of theatre. The need to hand down stories has been fundamental to human development and for thousands of years, people have written, performed, watched and enjoyed innumerable plays.

Understanding a performance text is fundamental to the subject, as this provides students with opportunities to explore plot, structure, narrative and stories from around the world and from different time periods. It encourages them to develop empathy skills, as they consider different characters and develop methods of communicating ideas and themes.

This component deals with developing knowledge, understanding and skills in exploring and performing from a performance text. Students will interpret this text and rehearse and refine two key extracts, leading to a final performance. They will demonstrate and use a wide range of acting and/or design skills to communicate their interpretation in performance.

Content

There are two areas of focus.

- 1) Interpreting and exploring two key extracts from a chosen performance text.
- 2) Performing or realising a design of two key extracts from this text.

Students may complete this component as a performer or designer or as a combination of both.

The design roles are:

- costume design
- lighting design
- set design
- sound design.

Centres wanting to offer design roles to students should refer to Appendix 3: Design roles minimum resource requirements for centres.

Text and extract choice

Centres can choose any performance text as long as it meets the following criteria.

- It must have been professionally commissioned or professionally produced and be at least 45 minutes in length.
- It offers students the opportunity to demonstrate exploratory range and depth.
- It offers students the opportunity to access the demands of this component as a performer and/or designer.
- It must have a degree of a challenge, in terms of appropriateness of content, themes and contexts to enable students to achieve at GCSE and access the Assessment Objective.
- It must provide a contrast to the text studied for Component 3 (see pages 6–8) and cannot be any prescribed text from the Component 3 lists.

Centres are reminded that they must complete a form regarding the text choices, please refer to page 6 for details.

Key extracts

Students must study two key extracts from their chosen performance text.

For the purposes of this qualification, a key extract is defined as a scene or a moment that is significant to the text as a whole and at least 10 minutes in length when performed.

Students may participate in the two key extracts as a performer or designer or as a combination of both.

For each extract students may perform/design in a monologue, duologue or group – the choice is open to centres. The approaches that could be followed are, for example:

Student A	Example approach
Extract 1	Performs a monologue
Extract 2	Performs in group

Student B	Example approach
Extract 1	Performs in group
Extract 2	Performs in group

Student C	Example approach
Extract 1	Designs for a monologue
Extract 2	Performs in a duologue

Students are not required to perform the same character or role in both key extracts.

Whole cohorts do not need to use the same performance texts.

Selecting a key extract

This can take the form of a continuous dialogue/scene, or edited extracts, for example abridging the extract to match the number of performers taking part.

For the monologue/duologue, the extract chosen may be edited to provide the required amount of material, but must provide a coherent monologue or duologue.

NB: Text can be edited through removal of characters/content/lines, as long as the meaning and shape/sequence of the text is maintained. Dialogue cannot be added or altered in the text.

Each selected extract will be assessed independently and it should be clear where each extract begins and ends.

Students are required to perform/realise a design for all or part of these key extracts, following the extract timings requirements below.

Centres must choose one of the approaches listed below when selecting the two key extracts.

Approach	Example
1. Select two separate key moments/scenes from the same text.	Too Much Punch For Judy , Mark Wheeler Extract 1: The crash and immediate aftermath. Extract 2: PC Caton informs Vi of the crash.
2. Select two consecutive key moments/scenes from the same text.	Blood Brothers , Willy Russell Extract 1: Mrs Lyon's breakdown and demand to move away to the countryside. Extract 2: Mickey and Eddie say their goodbyes; Mrs Johnstone says a private goodbye to Eddie.

Requirements per key extract

Each student needs to participate in two key extracts as a performer/designer. The timings given below are for one key extract performance/design realisation.

Monologue and duologue

The regulatory requirements for monologue and duologue performances are that they must complete a minimum monologue performance time of 2 minutes and a minimum duologue performance time of 3 minutes per key extract.

Number of performers	Minimum performance time per key extract	Maximum performance time per key extract
1 performance student (monologue)	2 minutes	3 minutes
2 performance students (duologue)	3 minutes	5 minutes

Group performance

A group must be between three and six performance students. In addition, there can be up to one designer per role, per group.

The regulatory requirements for groups are that they must complete a minimum performance time of 4 minutes per key extract.

The recommended minimum performance times have been provided to ensure that each student within the group has sufficient time to access all levels of the assessment criteria.

Group size	Recommended minimum performance time per key extract	Maximum performance time per key extract
3–4 performance students (group)	10 minutes	12 minutes
5–6 performance students (group)	13 minutes	15 minutes

Centres should be aware that performance times that are between the regulatory minimum (4 minutes) and the recommended minimum (10 or 13 minutes) may not allow students to evidence their skills fully in order to access all levels of the assessment criteria.

All students will be assessed as individuals.

Meeting the performance timings

For students (performance and design) who do not meet the regulatory minimum performance requirement of 2, 3 and/or 4 minutes, the examiner will use their professional judgement against the AO2 assessment criteria based on what the student has achieved and then the total mark will be reduced proportionally according to how many seconds the work is under length.

The proportional time penalty will be applied by Pearson Edexcel after the work has been marked by the examiner, using the conversion tables in Appendix 6.

Examiners will be required to stop marking after the maximum performance time has passed.

Requirements for performances/design realisations

All performances/design realisations should take place in front of an appropriate audience and must be recorded. Centres are free to identify their own suitable audience and venue for the performance, this could include:

- performance to the rest of the class or another class within the centre
- performance to an invited external audience.

Teachers should adopt a facilitating role and may direct. They may direct and give guidance during the practical work and the preparation for performance(s) but not during the performance(s).

When directing, teachers are allowed to:

- interpret and structure the text as written to meet the demands of the examination (time limits etc.)
- suggest solutions to artistic and creative problems referring to the assessment criteria if appropriate
- make artistic and creative decisions referring to the assessment criteria if appropriate (however, they should not make direct judgements about the assessment criteria or allocate marks).

Performance roles

Performers must gain knowledge and understanding to explore how meaning is communicated through:

- themes, issues, performance conventions
- genre, structure, form, style, language and stage directions
- character relationships
- character development.

Performers must develop skills in:

- how meaning is communicated and interpreted through:
 - the use of voice, physical and non-verbal techniques (such as facial expression and gesture)
 - use of space and spatial relationships
 - the presentation of characters/roles
 - relationships between performer and audience
 - production elements, such as set (including props), costume, lighting and sound.

Also:

- characterisation
- voice: use of clarity, pace, inflection, pitch and projection
- physicality: use of space, gesture, facial expression, stillness and stance
- communicating creative intent to audience
- communication with other performers and/or with the audience.

Performers must understand how performance is created from a text. They should demonstrate the skills through:

- developing interpretations independently and collaboratively
- the development of specific artistic intentions
- learning lines, rehearsing, amending and refining text extracts in progress for performance
- performing to an audience.

Students should take into consideration any health and safety implications as appropriate.

Design roles

Designers must work collaboratively within a group of performers within their chosen area of design.

Where a student is assessed in a design role, it is their design skill that is the focus of the assessment, rather than their technical competence in the operation or use of equipment. The performance(s) must provide sufficient opportunity for design students to meet the demands of this component.

There is a maximum of one designer per role, per group.

Designers must gain knowledge and understanding to explore how meaning is communicated through:

- genre, structure, character, form, style, and language
- performance conventions
- use of space and spatial relationships
- relationship between performer and audience
- production elements.

Designers must understand how text-based performance is created. They should demonstrate the skills through:

- developing interpretations independently and collaboratively
- the development of specific artistic intentions
- rehearsing, amending and refining text extracts in progress for performance.

Designers must also develop skills in:

- making appropriate judgements during the development process
- interpreting content, narrative, style and form
- responding and adapting designs in response to rehearsal work (to be done collaboratively with the teacher-director)
- using and applying design skills to contribute to the performance as a whole
- demonstrating the ability to apply design skills effectively within the context of the performance
- communicating intention to an audience.

Designs should take into consideration performer/audience relationships and any health and safety implications and performer usage as appropriate.
