

6.2 The patterns of the distribution and consumption of natural resources varies on a global and a national scale	a. Global and UK variety and distribution of natural resources (soil and agriculture, forestry, fossil fuels, water supply, rock and minerals). (1)
	b. Global patterns of usage and consumption of food, energy and water. (2)
Integrated skills. (1) Use and interpretation of UK and world maps showing the distribution of resources; (2) Using different choropleth maps and data visualisations such as Gapminder.

Optional sub topic 6A: Energy resource management

One optional sub topic from either 6A or 6B.

Key idea	Detailed content
----------	------------------